

PDI Back Office and Home Office Solutions

The back office you need, to remove complexity you don't want

Holistic management of your business complemented by home office functionality

PDI Back Office and Home Office (BOS/HOS) solutions help you meet the increasing consumer demands for convenience and achieve the full potential from your multi-faceted fuel, retail, and foodservice facilities, regardless of country and currency. With one comprehensive software platform, you can centrally manage your pricebook and your complete inventory, including full recipe yield, all while ensuring consistent reporting and rolling up disparate data into one version of the truth for all sites and business ownership models.

Corporate, Dealer, and Franchise Operations

Exception-Based Reporting

Centralized Inventory and Pricebook

Secure Thin Web Client

All-in-one management

Back office site reporting, setup, and maintenance combined with home office reporting, pricing maintenance by brand, and site grading for accurate stock allocation

Be in the office when you are out

PDI gives you real-time visibility into your business performance from anywhere you are. Running in a web browser, PDI POS gives you and your colleagues the freedom to log on to the software at the same time. With over 100 standard reports covering sales, stock POS, cash management, customers, and staffing, you can stay up to date whether you are at the store, at the headquarters, or on the go.
